DESCRIPTION

PGCert in Non-Surgical Facial Aesthetics

Accredited by the University of Salford

PGCert in Non-Surgical Facial Aesthetics (NSFA) - in partnership with the University of Salford - offering hands-on training, in a clinical setting, for medical professionals. This is a new course starting this October, which will offer you experienced mentoring support and will help secure your future in aesthetics. This course will be lead by dental and clinical practitioner Tracey Bell, who runs Tracey Bell Dental and Aesthetic Medical Clinic, along with lectures from internationally renowned speakers. At level 7, this course has been designed and created with the requirements of both HEE and JCCP.

What you'll learn

The course is based on a competency framework, provided by the JCCP, and its aim is to provide the required competencies of practitioners providing Botulinum Toxin and Dermal Fillers in clinical practices.

Module 1 - Botulinum Toxin and Module 2 - Dermal Fillers:

- Basic principles of dermatology
- Facial anatomy & physiology of ageing as applied to NSFA
- Risk factors related to lips, cheeks & nasolabial regions
- Complication avoidance techniques
- Law, ethics & consent principles applicable to Botulinum Toxin & Dermal Fillers

What to expect

Clinical training is a key element of both modules. Students will have the benefit of clinical observations of experienced practitioners, model practice, and supervised first live treatments. Students will be expected to complete an e-portfolio of cases which they will log as they proceed through the programme. During their clinical experience students will complete a personal learning plan.
