DESCRIPTION
Endodontics Diploma / MSc / MClinDent

UCL Eastman Endodontic programmes are highly sought after and internationally renowned for their rigour and outcomes. Our programmes have a balanced integration of cognitive, technical and clinical skills development with mentored, supervised clinical exposure.

Our range of courses cater for a wide range of practitioners – from those who wish to enhance their skills whilst continuing to work in practice through to those who wish to develop the specialist skills required to enable independent practice of endodontics at the highest level.

Our graduates are sought after, secure work placements and a majority go on to teach their art and science.
